DIRECTOR’S NOTE

BY ASHTON BYRUM

Once On This Island, by Lynn Ahrens and Michael Flaherty, is based on the novel My Love, My Love or The Peasant Girl by Rosa Guy. A lush, Caribbean retelling of The Little Mermaid tale from the 1990–91 Broadway season, the story celebrates the notion of community in a joyous yet timely way. It’s a love story set against the frame of race and skin tone as the defining trait for advantage and power (a truth still magnified today throughout our daily lives and political discourse).

As we near the end of the historic presidency of Barack Obama, our nation reels from a long and exhausting political season of division and the coded language of prejudice. But, it’s been fascinating for our ensemble to explore the notion of a light-skinned man of color representing the traditional seat of privilege and entitlement. Our society has a lot of healing to do to unite as one community. Unsurprisingly, what heals this division in the show and hopefully in real life, is love, selfless love. Love can create and define a new community—love conquers all.

I’ve always liked the notion of a large community uniting to help raise a child: The concept of “it takes a village” reminds us of the challenge of parenting and simply getting them to adulthood, but also of the love children and families can bring to our lives. As we watch them discover the world, making wishes big and small, we remember our younger selves and how alike we all are. This story proves once again that when we see ourselves in others, we become more understanding. Families, love, faith and joy are a part of the human condition and define all of our communities (we have more in common than not).

Finally, I would be remiss if I didn’t celebrate the unusual fact that our Theatre Department is able to produce this particular show and cast it as it was originally intended. At Columbia College Chicago, we’re proud that our students reflect what the world looks like and our diversity is one of our greatest strengths.

THIS is why we tell the story.

DANIEL KNOEDLER (Scenic Designer) is a senior Theatre Design major from Mosinee, Wisconsin. He designed numerous sets (How to Succeed in Business, Chicago, The Wizard of Oz and Nunsense) for his local community theatre before transferring to Columbia in fall 2014. Since arriving on campus, Daniel has worked on directing projects (My Sister in This House and Dr. Faustus) and the NewStew Fresh Play prize (In The Clearing).

ANDY KLOUBEC (Lighting Designer) is a senior Theatre Design major concentrating in Lighting Design. Andy is proud to be designing his first musical, and sixth overall production at Columbia. Previous design credits include Columbia’s Fresh Ink Play Festival 2016; Dog Sees God: Confessions of a Teenage Blockhead, directed by Max Colvill; and I’m Full of B.S.: A Novel, choreographed by Aaliyah Leonard.

BENJAMIN WITT (Costume Designer) is a senior BFA Theatre Design major with concentrations in lighting and costume design from Antioch, Illinois. Previous Columbia College Chicago costume design credits include Baltimore Waltz (dir. Joey Lubelfeld), Sequence (dir. Paulina Strayer), 24-Hour Play Fest (dir. Stephanie Shaw) and Audition! (dir. Stephanie Shaw). Ben has also been the lighting designer for the six haunted houses at Six Flags Great America.

LIANA PROKOPIS (Makeup Designer) is a senior Theatre Design student from Chicago with a passion for makeup and costumes. Previous Columbia College Chicago credits include Shakespeare’s As You Like It (costumes), Love and Information (costumes) and Doctor Faustus (makeup). Liana plans to continue working in Chicago, pursuing a career in both makeup and costumes.

MIKAYLA DAVIS (Makeup Designer) is a senior Theatre major from Sacramento. This is her first Mainstage production at Columbia College Chicago.

AMANDA ZIEGLER (Sound Designer) is a senior Technical Theatre major from Berwyn, Illinois. Recent Columbia College Chicago productions include, Women on the Verge of a Nervous Breakdown, Blues for An Alabama Sky, The Drowsy Chaperone, Dog Sees God and Into the Woods.

NICHOLAS BADER (Production Stage Manager) is a junior Stage Management major from Ohio. Previous Columbia College Chicago credits include assistant stage management for M. Butterfly, 24 Hour Play Fest and Women on the Verge... . Nicholas recently completed a contract at Summer Repertory Theatre Festival in California, working as the assistant stage manager on Rock of Ages, Nice Work If You Can..., and stage managed the SRT 4th Annual Cabaret.
ASHTON BYRUM (Director) is an associate professor and a coordinator of the Musical Theatre Performance program at Columbia College Chicago. This past summer, he directed How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying at The Little Theatre on the Square in Sullivan, Illinois and Bye Bye Birdie for the Wilmette Starlight Theatre. Other recent projects include title of show and The Marvelous Wonderettes (Open Door Rep), Annie Get Your Gun (Wilmette Starlight Theatre) and Rent, Victor/Victoria, Oklahoma! and many new student and senior showcases at Columbia. He earned his MFA in Directing from the University of Cincinnati College-Conservatory of Music (CCM). As an actor, Mr. Byrum’s Broadway and National Tour credits include The Producers, A Christmas Carol, Grease!, Will Rogers Follies, Fiddler on the Roof and My Fair Lady (Europe). Regional Theatre work includes: Denver Center Theatre Company, Paper Mill Playhouse (New Jersey), Ogunquit Playhouse (Maine), Arkansas Rep, Westchester Broadway Theatre (New York), Cape Playhouse (Massachusetts), The Little Theatre on the Square, Jupiter Theatre (Florida), Flat Rock Playhouse (North Carolina), and the Idaho Shakespeare Festival.

PHIL CALDWELL (Musical Director) is an adjunct faculty member and piano accompanist in the Theatre Department at Columbia College Chicago and at the Sherwood Community Music School. Other music directing credits at Columbia include The Drowsy Chaperone, Oklahoma!, Hecuba and Splendora. Phil has worked as a music director and performer at American Theater Company, Annoyance Theatre, Davenport’s Cabaret, Emerald City Theatre Company, the Goodman Theatre, Hell in a Handbag Productions, Victory Gardens and for the national touring company of The Second City.

MICHAEL GEORGE (Choreographer; Storyteller; u/s Ti Moune, Mama Euralie ) is a senior Acting major. This is her third Mainstage production at Columbia College Chicago and the first time she’s co-choreographing a full production. Previous Columbia productions include Oklahoma! and Death and a Kings Horseman as an ensemble member. Although her concentration is acting, she loves dancing and singing and plans to do so on Broadway in the near future.

MARIAH MORRIS (Choreographer; Storyteller; u/s Andrea) is a senior Acting major from Los Angeles, where she trained with the Debbie Allen Dance Academy for 12 years. In the last three years she has performed in a number of Columbia College Chicago productions including The 90s Show, Columbia’s Got Talent, Under The Rug, Love and Information and Oklahoma! Mariah has also appeared as a soloist dancer on Chicago’s hit TV show, Empire.

[TI MOUNE] Sure as a wave Needs to be near the shore You are the one I was intended for Deep in your eyes I saw the gods' design Now my life is forever yours And you are mine. I am a tree Holding away the storm Here in my arms I'll keep you safe and warm even the gods Won't dare to cross this line Where my life is forever yours And you are mine. [TI MOUNE, DANIEL] Mine We'll race away in a car as silver as the moon And the storm will turn to sun On an island where the earth and sea are one Sure as this night Leads to a sky of blue Sure as my heart Led me to be with you Surely the gods Meant this to be a sign That my life is forever yours And you are [PAPA GE] Mine Mine!
