General Information

REGISTRATION: The registration desk in the Gordon House at the Dora Lee Langdon Center will open Thursday morning at 8:30 a.m. and continue throughout the Langdon Review Weekend.

VENUE: All events, with the exception of the film screening and the Picnic with the Poet Laureate, take place at the Langdon Center. The Rock House and the Concert Hall are both within shouting distance of the Gordon House where registration is taking place.

EXHIBITS: Writers have been invited to display their books at a table in the Gordon House. Feel free to browse and ultimately purchase books.

RECORDING OF SESSIONS: This year, we have partnered up with Dan Malone and the students of the Tarleton Communication Studies Department to record some sessions, for future broadcast.

BREAK AREA: From 10:00 a.m. until 2:00 p.m., help yourself to the snacks provided, on the Gordon House back porch.

RESTROOMS: Restrooms are located in the building behind the Concert Hall.

SOCIAL, CULTURAL, AND INTELLECTUAL PROGRAM: All the events from Thursday morning’s readings onward—the publication reception, readings, guest speakers’ programs, Picnic with the Poet Laureate, and the Saturday Morning Brunch—are all included in the registration fee, as is a copy of this year’s journal. Movie tickets may be purchased at ShowBiz Cinema 6. Sign up and pay for extra picnic and brunch tickets (if additional ones are available) either online or at the registration desk.

THE BOOK: We’re celebrating the twelfth edition of Langdon Review of the Arts in Texas, available for purchase at the Gordon House and online.

IMPORTANT NOTE: Please respect the room capacity numbers posted at each venue.

If you need anything, please don’t hesitate to ask Co-Directors Moumin Quazi and Marilyn Robitaille or Langdon Center Specialist Joel Back.
DAY ONE, WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 9, 2015
7 – 9 p.m.

Special Opening Session: Featuring the editors and some contributors of Her Texas: Story, Image, Poem & Song (Concert Hall)

Postcards from Texas: A Celebration of Her Texas.
Moderated by Donna Walker-Nixon, Cassy Burleson, Rachel Crawford, and Anne McCrady

Followed by LANGDON LAUNCH PARTY & RECEPTION (Gordon House) Sponsored by Wings Press. Special thanks to Bryce Milligan, Publisher, Editor and Book Designer of Wings Press since 1995.

Introductory Remarks:

Charles A. Rodenberger was the husband of Dr. Lou Rodenberger for 59 years until her death from ovarian cancer in 2009. He is Professor Emeritus, Aerospace Engineering, Texas A&M University. After retirement from A&M he consulted for General Dynamics Fort Worth. Since 1988 he has written the column “The Cowboy and The Computer” for Livestock Weekly. Currently retired, he is married to Nancy Johnston and lives in Granbury, Texas.

Words from the Editors: Donna Walker-Nixon, Rachel Crawford, and Cassy Burleson

Postcard 1:

Donna Walker-Nixon’s five primary professional achievements have been 1) founding Windhover: A Journal of Christian Literature in 1997; 2) co-editing the New Texas series with her friend and mentor James Ward Lee; 3) co-founding Langdon Review of the Arts in Texas; 4) publishing her novel Canaan's Oothoon; and 5) the editing of Her Texas, which has jettisoned her faith that the voices of women writers and artists truly mean something to both men and women.

Sarah Cortez is a Councilor of the Texas Institute of Letters and has won the PEN Texas Literary Award in Poetry. Her Cold Blue Steel was a finalist in the Writers’ League of Texas awards. She edited Our Lost Border: Essays on Life amid the Narco-Violence, winning a Southwest Book Award and an International Latino Book Award. Her latest anthology is Goodbye, Mexico: Poems of Remembrance. Sarah was a finalist for Texas Poet Laureate and Houston Poet Laureate.

Susie Kelly Flatau is an author and abstract artist whose paintings are installed all over the United States. Her published books include CounterCulture Texas, From My Mother’s Hands, Red Boots & Attitude, Quotable Texas Women, and Reaching Out to Today’s Kids. After leaving Texas in 2008 for a seven-year stint in Western New York, Susie has happily returned to her Lone Star roots. She currently lives in Georgetown, Texas, with her husband Jack.
Postcard 2:
Rachel Crawford has worked as a waitress, guitar teacher, childbirth educator, bail bondswoman, high school and college English teacher, editor, and writer. Her poetry appears in publications, such as Mudlark, RiverSedge (forthcoming), and Red River Review. She is a contributing co-editor of Her Texas: Story, Image, Poem & Song, and she is currently at work as a co-editor of an anthology called A Shared Truth. She lives in central Texas with her husband and daughter.

Loretta Diane Walker is a multiple Pushcart nominee. She has published two collections of poetry; her manuscript In This House is forthcoming in 2015. Loretta was recently named “Statesman in the Arts” by the Heritage Council of Odessa. Her manuscript Word Ghetto won the 2011 Bluelight Press Book Award. She teaches music in Odessa, Texas. Loretta received a B.M.E. from Texas Tech University and earned an M.A. from the University of Texas—Permian Basin.

Sobia Khan is English and Creative Writing faculty at Richland College, Dallas. She earned her PhD in 2014 from University of Texas-Dallas. She has published translations of Urdu poetry and short stories in literary journals. She was a VONA/Voices fellow in Junot Diaz’s fiction workshop in Summer 2015. At the moment, she is completing her first novel, which focuses on two women from two generations and countries on very different journeys of self-discovery.

Postcard 3:
Rachel Crawford will moderate this postcard.

Sherry Craven retired from teaching college English and lives in Jasper, Texas. She has published in periodicals, such as descant, Langdon Review, RiverSedge, Quotable Texas Women, and Writing on the Wind. She won the Conference of College Teachers of English 2005 poetry award. Her poetry collection, Standing by the Window, was published by Virtual Artists Collection. She has poems coming out in Southern Anthology: Texas, VIII and Stone Renga.

Postcard 4:
Cassy Burleson is from Groesbeck. During 50 years, she’s published in Whetstone, Stone Drum, Green Fuse, Beall House of Poetry, Langdon Review, American Studies Journal, and co-edited Her Texas. She’s been as a reporter, magazine writer, editor, photographer, designer, PR practitioner, fundraiser, consortium director, curriculum editor, securities fraud investigator, and taught at the high school, community college and university levels. She is a senior lecturer of Journalism, PR & New Media at Baylor University.

Karla K. Morton, 2010 Texas Poet Laureate, will be reading selections from her tenth book out this year titled Constant State of Leaping. It was first runner up for the National Eric Hoffer Book Award in Poetry and a finalist for the Montaigne Medal, and won the North Texas Book Festival Award for Poetry.

Charlotte Renk has published in journals, such as Kalliope, Concho River Review, Sow’s Ear, Southwest Review, and Langdon Review, plus in anthologies such as Southern Poetry Review. She has published three books of poetry, These Holy Hungers: Secret Yearnings from an Empty Cup (Eakin Press) Manuscript Award), Solidago, An Altar to Weeds (Poetry in the Arts), and The Tenderest Petal Hears (co-winner, 2014 Blue Horse Press Award, sponsored by San Pedro River Review).

Conclusion:
Anne McCrady's award-winning poems have been set to music as art song and used in wedding ceremonies, memorial services and worship settings. Through her company, InSpiritry, Anne presents literary and inspirational programs, edits and publishes a yearly peace poetry collection and directs an annual regional student poetry contest. Her newest endeavor is Poet with a Press Pass, a weekly blog of original poems in response to global news. Her website is InSpiritry.com.

June Zaner, retired free-lance artist, began publishing with the 1955 gifted high school writer’s journal, and poetry in the University of Houston’s Harvest, in 1958. Visual arts was her career, however, until retirement, when she began writing again. Some recent publications include 11 poems and photographs in Langdon Review, 2008-2009, New Texas, EXPlore, Her Texas: Story, Image, Poem & Song (ink drawings and poems). She has a poem forthcoming in Southern Anthology of Poetry.

Susan White Norman is a fiction writer and instructor at Southern Methodist University. Her stories have appeared in several journals online and in print. Her most recent work is forthcoming in The Literary Review, Winter 2015.

Other Contributors in Attendance:
Jeanne Bennett launched Calliope Press in 1969 and has since published more than 25 books. She served as editor of Granbury Showcase Magazine, and is Vice-President of the Fort Worth Writers. As a bookbinder/artist, her works have been exhibited throughout the United States. Her latest book, Hidden Treasures: the History and Technique of Fore-edge Painting, was published in 2012. Jeanne loves to read and is presently doing research for an upcoming non-fiction book.

Helen Kwiatkowski received her B.A. in Fine Arts from Upsala College and an M.F.A. in Painting and Mixed Media from East Texas State University. She teaches art at the University of Mary Hardin-Baylor. Her primary medium is painting. She has exhibited her work both regionally and nationally, including solo exhibitions at Central Texas College, and The Art Center of the Ozarks. Helen’s work was included in the Texas Biennial: An Independent Survey of Contemporary Texas Art.

Marilyn Robitaille co-founded Langdon Review of the Arts in Texas and writes a weekly movie review for the Stephenville Empire Tribune. She co-edited the inaugural volume of Writing Texas.

About Wings Press: Currently celebrating its 40th year, Wings Press evolved during the small press movement of the late 1960s and early 1970s. It was founded by Joanie Whitebird and Joe Lomax, who published their first book in 1975. Authors published from 1975 to 1993 included such notables as Judson Crews, Vassar Miller, Naomi Shihab Nye, Robert Phillips, and singer/songwriter Townes Van Zandt. During those years, Wings Press published approximately 50 works by 42 authors, almost all hand-sewn chapbooks. Bryce Milligan purchased the press in 1994, becoming its publisher/editor/designer. The press has published over 225 books since that time, ranging from handmade chapbooks to 600-page hardbacks. Over half its titles are poetry. Current Wings Press authors (147 active) hail from 26 states and 14 foreign countries. Not including some 300+ authors included only in anthologies, 57% are Latina/o, Black, Asian, and Native American, 43% are Anglo; 54% are women, 46% are men. They include the poets laureate of the United States, Delaware, Louisiana, Nebraska, Texas, Utah, and Virginia, as well as San Antonio and Tucson. In 2004, Wings Press published the definitive edition of John Howard Griffin’s Black Like Me, which remains the best-selling title for the press. Wings Press went on to publish Griffin’s entire canon. Except for chapbooks and some children’s titles, Wings Press has published the complete works of several authors, including Cecile Pineda, Carmen Tafolla, and Pamela Uschuk. Wings Press has published six anthologies, the latest of which is Her Texas.

Thursday, September 10
Afternoon Session I
1:15 p.m. – 2:30 p.m.
2 concurrent sessions

1. Poetry (Concert Hall)

   a. Dorothy Alexander is a poet, storyteller and editor/publisher of a small independent press. Author of four poetry collections, and a memoir in prose and poetry, Dorothy is a founding member of the Woody Guthrie Poetry Readings in Okemah, Oklahoma. Inspired by the agrarian literary tradition and the populist political movements in the rural United States, she embraces primarily the narrative form, what she calls “narcissistic” narrative, and “selfie” poetry. Her presentation is called, “Stumbling Around in the Dark.”

   b. Julie Chappell is Professor of English at Tarleton State, an editor, translator, and creative writer. She has five academic books with another in progress. Her poetry collection, Faultlines, was released by Village Books Press in 2013. She is an editor for Lamar University Press and Ink Brush Press. Her creative writing has appeared in Revival: Spoken Word from Lollapalooza 94; Agave: A Celebration of Tequila; Writing Texas, and Red River Review. Her presentation is, “Tears of a One-eyed Woman.”

   c. Jane Holwerda is Professor of English and Division Chair of Humanities at Dodge City Community College in Kansas. Her work has been published in such periodicals as Hurricane Review, Illya’s Honey, Red River Review, and Sou’wester, as well as in anthologies such as Guilty Pleasures and Elegant Rage. Holwerda earned her Masters in English and her doctorate in American Studies from Saint Louis University where she also edited for Boulevard. Her presentation is called, “Handyman.”

   d. Hank Jones is an Assistant Professor at Tarleton State where he has taught English composition and literature for the past fourteen years along with a stint as Assistant Director of International Programs. He has read his poetry at a number of venues including Scissortail Creative Writing Festival, and Southwest Popular and American Culture Association. His work has been published in Cybersoleil: A Literary Journal. His presentation is, “If You Put the Words Together Just Right.”

2. Mixed Genre (Rock House)

   a. Charlotte Renk has published three books of poetry, including These Holy Hungers: Secret Yearnings from an Empty Cup, which won the Eakin Press Manuscript Award. She has won numerous awards, including Southwest’s Story Teller Award, Teacher of the Year, and Innovator of the Year Award. Currently, she lectures and conducts writing workshops, lectures, and continues to love living in her small cabin nestled in East Texas woods where she walks and writes.
b. Loueva Smith is the 2015 winner of the Robert Phillips Chapbook Prize given by the Texas Review Press. Her poetry has been anthologized in Goodbye, Mexico, TimeSlice, and The Weight of Addition. Her plays, The Wounded Woman Fashion Show, Bruna Bunny and Baby Girl and Tenderina have been performed at the Frenetic Theater in Houston, Texas.

c. Dan Williams is the Director of TCU Press and the Honors Professor of Humanities in the TCU Honors College. He has published five books, around fifty articles and essays, and a handful of poems. Among his most recent publications was The Lords of Leftovers, a novel published by Ink Brush Press in 2013. He is reading from The Lords of Absence, a forthcoming novel.

d. Germaine Welch lives in Houston, Texas. She has a Ph.D. in Anthropology from Rice University where she studied the use of metaphor in the development of a small group culture. Her poem “Texas Oil Man Missing” was published in The Lineup: Poems on Crime. “1946: The War is Over” appears in Goodbye, Mexico: Poems of Remembrance.

Thursday, September 10
Afternoon Session II
2:45 p.m. – 3:45 p.m.
2 concurrent sessions

1. Poetry (Concert Hall)

a. Katherine Hoerth is the author of two poetry books, Goddess Wears Cowboy Boots (Lamar UP, 2014) and The Garden Uprooted (Slough Press, 2012). The Texas Institute of Letters awarded her the Helen C. Smith Award for the best book of poetry in 2015. She teaches English at the University of Texas Rio Grande Valley and serves as poetry editor of Amarillo Bay. Katherine’s presentation is from her collection of revisionist myths in blank verse about Pecos Bill's infamous girlfriend, Slue Foot Sue.

b. Carol Coffee Reposa’s poems, reviews, and essays have appeared or are forthcoming in The Atlanta Review, The Texas Observer, and other journals and anthologies. She has received three Pushcart Prize nominations, along with three Fulbright-Hays Fellowships for study in Russia, Peru, Ecuador, and Mexico and twice has made the short list for Texas Poet Laureate. A professor emeritus of English at San Antonio College, she now serves as poetry editor of Voices de la Luna.

2. Open (Rock House)

a. Joe R. Christopher, Professor emeritus of English at Tarleton State University, member of the Brite Divinity School Board of Visitors (three-year term), and author of Ars Poetica (Mellen Poetry Press, 2012) and other books, will read “Inside the Slan Shack” (a narrative poem, the first of an intended series). “Slan shack” is old science-fiction slang for a fan club house; here it is used for a meeting place of graphic-novel and comic-book fans.

b. Laurence Musgrove teaches at Angelo State University. His poetry has appeared in descant, New Texas, and Elephant Journal. He blogs at theillustratedprofessor.com and cartoons at texosophy.com. He and Terry Dalrymple are currently accepting submissions to a new project, Texas Weather, an anthology of fiction, non-fiction, and poetry also to be published by Lamar UP. He is going to read selections from his latest collection of poetry, Local Bird, just published by Lamar UP.

c. David Bowles has lived most of his life in the Río Grande Valley. Recipient of awards from the Texas Institute of Letters and Texas Associated Press, he has written several books, most recently Border Lore. Additionally, his work has been published in venues such as Rattle, Axolotl, Red River Review, and Huizache. In his presentation, David mines Mexican myths and south Texas legends, reading from his two latest books The Smoking Mirror and Border Lore.

Thursday, September 10
Concurrent Afternoon Session III
4 p.m. – 5 p.m.
2 concurrent sessions

1. Poetry (Rock House)

a. Alan Birkelbach's presentation comes from his tenth book of poetry, Meridienne Verte. In keeping with the spirit of his earlier work Rogue Waves Alan explores the existential nature of life, questioning continuously if this is indeed the best of all possible worlds. Using geographical and historical references in a narrative tone, Alan explores the mundane to the miraculous. Alan was 2005 Texas Poet Laureate.

b. Ann Howells, Aerial Navigation. Ann’s poetry appears in Borderlands, Concho River Review, and Spillway among others. She serves on Dallas Poets Community's board (501-c-3) and edits Illya’s Honey, recently going digital (www.IlyasHoney.com) and alternating issues with a new co-editor. Ann’s chapbooks are, Black Crow in Flight (Main Street Rag Publishing, 2007) and the Rosebud Diaries (Willet Press, 2012). She has been read on NPR, interviewed on Writers around Annapolis television, and nominated for four Pushcarts.

2. Poetry (Concert Hall)

a. Brady Peterson lives near Belton, Texas, where for much of the past twenty-nine years he worked building homes and teaching rhetoric. His poems have appeared in New Texas, Windhover, Journal of Military Experience, Texas Poetry Calendar, Blue Hole, The Good Men Project and San Antonio Express-News. He has published a chapbook, Glued to the Earth, and a full length volume of poetry, Between Stations. He will be reading poems from his latest book—Dust.

c. Travis Blair’s presentation comes from his third poetry book, Hazy Red and Diesel Grey. These poems paint pictures of friends, family, and his own adventures throughout urban Texas. His other two books are Train to Chihuahua and Little Sandwiches. Blair is former President of the Dallas Poets Community and is published in many literary journals. After a lengthy career in the movie business, he now teaches ESL to adult immigrants. His presentation is called, “Poems of Urban Texas.”

DAY THREE, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 11
MORNING SESSIONS
Registration: 8:30 a.m. –
Gordon House

Plenary Morning Session I
9 a.m. – 10:15 a.m.

1. Prose (Concert Hall)

a. Jim Harris is a retired internist and rancher from Marshall, Texas, with diverse interests and talents. At Langdon, he has presented a poignant account of a cardiac death, a funeral totally disrupted by a squirrel dog, and, last year, an overview regarding Chronic Traumatic Encephalopathy and tackle football. This year’s presentation, “Older than Love,” concerns a young white boy working in the woods with several black men in the 1950’s. He may also read a poem.

b. Michael Dooley (aka Woodstok Farley) is an Assistant Professor at Tarleton State where he has taught for fourteen years. Having submitted regularly to faculty chapbooks, Michael has branched out and been presenting at such venues as the South Central Modern Language Association and Southwest Popular and American Culture Association. This year, his first short story, “As the Wave Rose,” was published in Cybersoleil: A Literary Journal. His presentation is, “Surf, Swamp, and Stone, Part III.”

c. Tui Snider, author, photographer, podcast host, speaker and Twitter master, is out to prove that “Even home is a travel destination.” Snider’s bestselling books inspired by the Lone Star state include Paranormal Texas, The Lynching of the Santa Claus Bank Robber, and the 2015 First Place Winner for Adult Nonfiction, Unexpected Texas. Snider enjoys creating interest in regional history and travel through her books, blog, photography, speaking engagements, and social media. (More info: www.TuiSnider.com)

d. D. Brian Anderson teaches English at the College of the Mainland, where he was recently appointed chair of the Humanities Department. His short stories, essays, and poetry have appeared in Langdon Review of the Arts in Texas, Hawai’i Review, Rio Grande Review, the Houston Chronicle, and the Journal of New Jersey Poets. He also has two poems forthcoming in War, Literature & the Arts. His essay presentation is “Forty Degrees below Zero in Georgetown: Measuring Alzheimer’s.”

Teresa LaBarbera Whites
Artist Advocate, Executive Producer, and Independent A&R Woman

Teresa LaBarbera Whites is ranked one of the top music industry executives in the world with over two decades of experience. She is directly responsible for the discovery and development of Beyoncé, Destiny’s Child, and Jessica Simpson and continues to work side by side with Beyoncé on all of the superstar’s music. Teresa is consistently brought in to work closely with top artists on their recording projects including Britney Spears and her critically acclaimed Blackout & Circus albums, Pink, The Backstreet Boys, and Katharine McPhee to name a few. Teresa’s projects have sold more than eighty million records, and her creative executive role spans from A&R to Executive Producer. In addition to all of her A&R credits, Teresa was an Executive Producer on Britney Spears’s Circus album. Her most recent signing, MKTO, have quickly risen to the top of the charts with a multi-platinum single and debut album.

Teresa is expanding her reach with a new venture, the Music Moxie Roadshow, in which she will embark on a first-of-its kind tour across the United States to discover new talent. She will also be sharing her vast knowledge of the entertainment industry with aspiring performers, songwriters, producers, rising entertainment executives, not to mention parents that are proactive in their children’s decisions to pursue a music career. The creator and CEO of her newly formed BellaSonic Records, Teresa’s focus is the Artist and their creativity as it relates to today’s commercial market. She is currently in the studio developing several new projects, in addition to mentoring new producers and songwriters.

She also frequently hosts Songwriting Retreats at The Arbor House Bed & Breakfast, which she owns, in Granbury, Texas. She brings recording artists, producers and songwriters in from around the world to work on projects. The quaint historical town has proven to be the perfect creative get-away for such artists as Katharine McPhee, along with Martie Maguire & Emily Robinson from the Dixie Chicks/Courtyard Hounds, to name a few.

Special Thanks! is the first stage in Monthly Event All-Stars stages. The stage starts with a Teacher A, Gory, and peons spawning at a slow rate. When the enemy base is damaged, another Teacher A, Bearkinis and some Samurai Doggy will appear. When the enemy base is at 50% health, Gory Groom appears, with more Bearkinis, Samurai Doggy, and Gory Blacks. When the Gory Groom is defeated, nothing can stop you from winning!
