Seminary Mission Statement
The mission of the New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary is to equip leaders to fulfill the Great Commission and the Great Commandments through the local church and its ministries.

Course Purpose, Core Value Focus, and Curriculum Competencies Addressed
New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary has five core values: Doctrinal Integrity, Spiritual Vitality, Mission Focus, Characteristic Excellence, and Servant Leadership. These values shape both the context and manner in which all curricula are taught, with “doctrinal integrity” and “academic excellence” especially highlighted in this course. The core value focus for this semester is Mission Focus.

NOBTS also has seven basic competencies that guide our Masters degree programs: Biblical Exposition, Christian Theological Heritage, Disciple Making, Interpersonal Skills, Servant Leadership, Spiritual and Character Formation, and Worship Leadership. This course especially addresses the “Biblical Exposition” competency by means of helping the student learn to interpret the Bible accurately.

Course Description
An advanced course giving consideration to text-critical, grammatical, syntactical, literary, and historical issues through text analysis in a variety of genres. The course will emphasize sound hermeneutical principles for discovering the meaning of the text and for applying the text in teaching and preaching. Students may repeat the course for non-reduplicating books. Prerequisites: BSHM5310 Introduction to Biblical Hermeneutics; NTEN5300 Exploring the New Testament; NTGK5300 Introductory Greek Grammar; and NTGK6300 Intermediate Greek Grammar for Exegesis.

Student Outcomes:
The objectives of this course include the following:
1. Students should understand the background and exegetical meaning of Sermon on the Mount.
2. Students should gain an increased appreciation for how the study of Greek enhances Biblical interpretation.
3. Students should acquire the ability to translate and analyze the Greek text of Sermon on the Mount and apply this analysis to sound interpretation of the text through teaching and preaching.

Netiquette: Appropriate Online & Blackboard Behavior:
Each student is expected to demonstrate appropriate Christian behavior when working online on the Discussion Board. The student is expected to interact with other students in a fashion that will promote learning and respect for the opinions of others in the course. A spirit of Christian charity will be expected at all times in the online environment.

Course Teaching Methods
This course will be taught via a combination of pedagogical methods, including but not limited to the following: lectures, student assignments, small group work and presentations, computer resources, textbook reviews, and interaction with the setting of the text. Both inductive and deductive approaches to learning will be utilized.

Textbooks
3. D.A. Carson, Jesus' Sermon on the Mount And His Confrontation with the World
4. Dietrich Bonhoeffer, The Cost of Discipleship
5. Optional: Other tools will be introduced during the course and you will have the opportunity to purchase them as desired.

Course Requirements
1. A video overview of the material and an instructional PowerPoint will be posted for each week’s lessons. The PowerPoint will give you specific instructions for doing the work for that particular week. Be sure to check the video and PowerPoint in Course Documents on Blackboard for any tips for the week’s work.
2. Read the section in Stott, Carson, and the professor’s notes (posted on Blackboard) associated with the assignments each week.
3. Individual written assignments will be due twice each week to help you keep focused on the course. You will be working in the text weekly. For individual assignments, in order to spread your work out and make it more manageable, you will be required to post your translation and parsing assignments for the passage of the week in Assignments on Blackboard by Wednesday nights at midnight. The exegesis, phrasing, and sermon outlines must be posted in Assignments in Blackboard by Saturday nights at midnight.
4. Group Assignments: We will form groups (or work in a single group if the class is too small) for the semester to prepare special group assignments. Members of the groups will be responsible for interacting with other members in their group. The task of the group will be to use whatever tools and technology that is available to them to accomplish a common translation, exegesis, phrasing, and exposition of passages assigned to them. The assignments will rotate among the groups. When your group has a group assignment, you will not be responsible for individual assignments for that week. We will form the groups and make the assignments the first week of the course. Group assignments must be completed and posted by Friday midnight.

5. Remember, on the weeks Group Assignments are made, all students, other than the group, will be required to post responses to the reports of each group on the discussion board for each assignment. Posts must be made by Saturday midnight. Posts need not be long, but must be to the point.

6. We will only accept assignments in Assignments on Blackboard, so if you have trouble, please contact blackboardhelpdesk@nobts.edu.

7. The assignments should be done in the following manner:
   a. Translate the Passage: You should use a smooth translation when possible. However, make sure you are indicating that you are dealing with each word. Do the assigned translations using any tools you desire (except for an Interlinear or an English translation). You do not have to type the Greek text in your assignments (except in the Phrasing). Type the English translation only. A grading rubric is provided for the translations and parsing in Course Documents.
   b. Parsing of the Verbs: Parse all key verbs according to the Translation/parsing rubric in Course Documents. You may use any tools available.
   c. Phrasing: Learn the basic concepts of semantic diagramming. See the course documents for Bill Mounce’s discussion on semantic diagramming, or phrasing. Do a semantic diagram, or phrasing, of each assigned passage in Greek. Use the diagram as a tool for translation and interpretation. Phrasing is a new process for many of us, so we will get into it gradually. Take it seriously because it is a very helpful tool. A copy of the Greek text is available to you in Course Documents that you can use for your phrasing so you will not have to type in the Greek text.
   d. Exegesis of the Passages in the Homework Assignments: The exegesis should first be your effort to wrestle with the text on your own. Only go to the commentaries after you have used the language to arrive at your understanding of the meaning. Cite any sources that you use with parenthetical references. Wrestle with the text first to come to an understanding of what it means, then read the commentaries. Use the commentaries to support your interpretation or to dialogue with. Make and turn in to Assignments interpretative notes on the passage, including an explanation of the meaning of key words, important syntactical elements, textual issues, an explanation of the significance of the Greek construction, and an explanation of the passage. Do not be brief! Dig deep. A grading rubric is provided for the exegesis work. Please follow it closely.
   e. Sentence Outlines: Prepare a simple sentence outline for each passage translated giving the idea for a sermon or Bible lesson. The outline must have at least two levels. (Remember, a “sentence” outline is made up of complete sentences at all levels).

8. Please note that the individual translation and parsing assignments are due on Wednesdays by midnight. The exegesis, phrasing, and outline assignments are due on Saturdays by midnight. The Group Assignments are due on Fridays by midnight. Post the written assignments to the Assignments section in Blackboard.
9. Read all of the Bonhoeffer book and write a book review on the Sermon on the Mount section. The review will be due according to the Assignment Sheet in the syllabus. The review is not to be a summary of the book, but a serious consideration of the thesis and development of each chapter of the section. Evaluate main ideas of the chapters and react to them. The review must be according to Turabian style.

10. Complete a Final Exam given according to the Seminary Final Exam Schedule.

Course Evaluation

- An average of the individual assignment grades will count as 40% or the student’s grade.
- The book review will count as 15% of the student’s final grade.
- The group reports will count as 20% of the student’s final grade.
- Class participation, including postings, will count as 10% of the final grade.
- The Final Exam will count as 15% of the final grade.

Please remember that a grade of “A” means that a student has done exceptional work. If a student does good work, but not excellent, the grade will be a “B.” Average work earns a grade of “C.”

For Use by Individuals and Groups

Translation and parsing should follow these steps (due Wednesday night by midnight):
1. Translate the Passage: You should use a smooth translation when possible. However, make sure you are indicating that you are dealing with each word. Do the assigned translations using any tools you desire (except for an Interlinear or an English translation). You do not have to type the Greek text in your assignments (except in the Phrasing). Type the English translation only.
2. Parse the Verbs: Parse all key verbs according to the sample translation/parsing guide in Course Documents.

Exegesis should follow these steps (due Saturday night by midnight):
1. Read the text
2. Answer the question: What is the basic meaning of the text? Write out this basic meaning.
3. Write brief interpretive notes that include
   (a) an explanation of the meaning of key words
   (b) an explanation of the significance of the Greek grammar
   (c) an explanation of syntactical and textual issues.
4. Phrase the passage in Greek.
5. Re-evaluate your translation in the light of the Phrasing.
6. For Group Projects: Groups should add key word studies from the passage. (See the sample word studies in the Course Documents. See also the sample Group Project in Course Documents.
7. Examine the treatment of the passage in critical commentaries and other scholarly sources.
   Answer the question: how has this analysis of the text changed my understanding of the meaning of the text?

Sentence Outline should be from an exposition of the passage.
1. It should have at least one main point.
2. Every main point should have at least two subpoints.
3. All points and subpoints should be written in complete sentences.

The project will receive a grade according to the following scale:
- 93-100 (A) The project is well written in style and grammar and includes all elements above in a complete manner.
- 85-92 (B) The project is written in good style and grammar and includes all the elements above in an acceptable manner with a few deficiencies.
- 77-84 (C) The project is written in acceptable style and grammar and includes all elements above in an acceptable manner with a significant deficiencies.
- 70-76 (D) The project is written in poor style and grammar and omits some information from numbers the elements above.
- Below 70 (F) The project is written in poor style and grammar and omits significant information from the elements above and one or more of the major elements of the project.
